TCM Application: Boosts kidney qi, nourishes kidney yin, clears kidney heat to preserve fluid, promotes kidney function of regulating water.

Comments: KIDNEY DETOX FORMULA has been developed to aid kidney detoxification of environmental toxins (both heavy metals and chemical poisons). It regulates the kidney by moving dampness and clearing kidney heat due to free radical inflammation. The formula is also an excellent regulator of kidney function within TCM, and can be used in earlier stages of kidney compromise or failure.

TCM Application: Soothes liver qi, moves liver blood, tonifies liver blood, nourishes liver yin, clears liver heat.

Comments: LIVER DETOX FORMULA promotes Phase 1 and Phase 2 liver detoxification of environmental toxins and heavy metals by normalizing TCM functions of the liver. Environmental toxins are ubiquitous in the food, air and water, and include plastics, phthalates, solvents, pesticides, and herbicides. The formula is also an excellent regulator of liver function according to TCM, and can be used for gynecological disorders due to liver dysregulation, and liver enzyme elevation due to infection.

Herb Strength Ratio: 1:1.2 (100 g/120 ml)

TCM Applications: Soothes liver qi and blood, clears liver heat, calms shen, opens the liver channel to benefit breast and head.

Comments: PREMENSTRUAL FORMULA addresses premenstrual syndrome. In Chinese medicine, this is due to liver stagnation with heat, leading to symptoms in the breast, eyes and head. When the liver loses its ability to distribute blood to the muscles, tension and irritability follow. This hormone-free approach is also useful for infertility due to liver stasis with heat. In general, the Premenstrual Formula is used between ovulation and menses, and WOMEN'S HAIR FORMULA, a blood builder, can be used following the period, between menses and ovulation.

Herb Strength Ratio: 1:1.2 (100 g/120 ml)

TCM Applications: Clears heat, resolves toxin, moves liver qi and blood, clears liver fire affecting liver and gallbladder channels.

Comments: SIMPLEX-ZOSTER FORMULA is used for genital and oral herpes, and shingles. Both herpes simplex and varicella zoster (shingles) involve activation of the virus to the surface, causing painful, itching or blistering lesions. Herpes simplex travels along the liver channel (eyes, mouth, lips, genital region), while Varicella zoster travels along the gallbladder channel, affecting the costal region and buttocks. Certain herbs in the formula have antiviral effects, awhile other herbs specifically target fire in the liver and gallbladder channels. Use during acute outbreaks, dosing 3 x day.

TCM Applications: Clears lung heat, clears heat-toxin, dispels wind-heat, moistens lung yin, resolves phlegm.

Comments: SVP LUNG FORMULA (“sticky, viral phlegm”) is used for early or middle presentations of acute cough. Symptoms include a harsh or hacking cough, with small amounts of phlegm. This is the most common presentation of early cough, often following onset of a common cold. Certain antiviral herbs chase the causative agent. It can also be used for pertussis and smoker’s cough.

TCM Applications: Clears heat, resolves toxins, dispels pathogenic wind, cools the blood, moistens the throat.

Comments: This formula addresses strep throat, tonsillitis and swollen lymph glands in the neck. It is based on the historic formula Pu Ji Xiao Du Yin with modifications. Huang lian, huang qin, xuan shen clear heat-toxins due to bacteria, while ban lan gen and she gan clear heat-toxins due to virus.

The synergistic combination of chai hu, ma bo and xuan shen addresses swollen lymph glands. Niu bang zi is specific for sore throat.

TCM Application: Boosts and moves blood, tonifies liver yin and blood, boosts kidney qi, takes formula to scalp.

Comments: This formula is based on popular Chinese formulas. It is used for gradual loss of hair in women, often after the age of 40 when kidney qi begins to diminish. The Chinese say, “Blood is the root of hair”, and this formula richly boosts blood quality, promoting thicker and stronger hair. Not effective for familial baldness in men, or for severe cases of alopecia. Can also be used as a general blood builder in amenorrhea, scanty menses, and anemia.
