- a. ACUPUNCTURE uses thin, sterile needles to adjust the body's acupuncture channels, and regulate organ function through energetic manipulation. Dr. Fratkin uses Japanese Meridian Balancing for system balance and tonification, and Chinese acupuncture for symptom control. ELECTRICAL STIMULATION MACHINES and LASER are used to administer acupuncture stimulation instead of, or in addition to, needle therapy, either to body or ear points. Occasionally, MOXIBUSTION, the burning of the herb Artemisia on needles or on the skin at acupuncture points, is used for tonification of channels and organs.
- b. CHINESE HERBAL CONSULTATION uses both traditional pulse and tongue diagnosis and electrodermal evaluation, and is given for both acute and chronic conditions. Herbs are given either as pills, powder, alcohol extracted tincture or herbal packs. DIETARY CONSULTATION can include dietary recommendations based on Oriental constitutional system or include nutritional supplement recommendations.

ADVISEMENT OF WESTERN MEDICAL EVALUATION

I understand that Jake Paul Fratkin is a Doctor of Oriental Medicine, and is regulated by the state of Colorado as a Licensed Acupuncturist with rights of prescribing Chinese herbs. He is not a Western medical doctor (MD, DO), and is not authorized to make Western medical diagnosis, prognosis, or pharmaceutical recommendations.

I am seeing Dr. Fratkin of my own choice, with the intention of receiving natural therapeutics for my health complaint. I understand that Oriental medicine offers one aspect of my health care, and that a more in-depth overview may be served by an independent Western medical (MD, DO) evaluation. I acknowledge the advice to consider independent medical (MD, DO) evaluation so as to be aware of conventional diagnosis, treatment and prognosis.
